CARRIERS, NEWS-BOTS AND AGENTS SUPplied with "Daily Press" at 60 cents per hundred,

CASH INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE. No papers sent from or leave the office till paid for. Advertisements to be paid at time of ordering.

OUR enterprising agent, O. Glover, Esq., at Columbus, Ohio, complains that we did not include his first list-to-wit, two hundred suberibers, sent on Saturday-in our article of Monday, entitled "Over One Thousand Suberibers to the 'Daily Press' in One Day!"

We received said order on Saturday; but, creat as it was, we overlooked it. Now, adding first list Columbus subscriptions (two hundred), the whole number we received, in one day, Saturday, February 26th, was one thousand two hundred and thirty-four!

THE "Wedding March" and the "Cornation March," in "The Prophet," two new pieces produced at the Casino, are very beautiful, and well adapted to bring out the power of the instrument. They are worth the hear-

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE. - The County Commissioners, at their session yesterday, passed sundry orders on the Treasurer for an aggregate of $198 01. They also approved of the appointments of Deputies, Clerks, etc., by Howard Matthews, who yesterday took charge of the Auditor's Office.

MATRIMONIAL MONOMANIA.—The Clerk of the Probate Court issued fifteen marriage licenses yesterday. The teachings of the antimatrimonial school of philosophers by these couples will remain unappreciated for about thirty days, after which time we may expect them to sigh in vain for the joys of single FALL PROM A POBCH.—A negro boy, named Albert Donnelly, while sitting upon the balustrade of a porch at the jail, fell a distance of about twelve feet, and striking his head upon a brick pavement below, was hurt quite severely. He lay insensible, from the effect of the fall, for almost an hour, when he again became conscious. His injuries are not likely to prove fatal, although serious.

MECHANICS' EXCHANGE.-There was but slip ettendance at the Rooms of the American Patent Company, yesterday afternoon, in answer to the call to those desirous of establishing a Mechanics' Exchange. It was decided, upon consultation, to make personal application to the mechanics of the city, in the hope that decided steps may be taken, within a short period, of laying the foundation of an institu-tion so favorable both to their own interests and those of the community.

CINCINNATI CHESS CLUB.-The annual mosting was held on Saturday evening, the 26th ult. The Report showed that the Club had, for the first year of its reorganisation, succeeded beyond the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Its present room having become inefficiently commodious for the increased number of members, a committee was appointed to select more suitable apartments.

The officers for the ensuing year are Messrs. L. P. Meredith, Pres.; R. E. Dunlap, Vice Pres.; I. Eggers, Tressurer; ____, Secretary, and W. F. A Moore, Asst. Secretary.

JAMES H. BRAND has upon the point of completion the best picture—so say such as ught to know ever produced in this city. With those who have seen it, there has bebut one expression. The subject is the mistaken views of a cat in respect to the intentions of a dog. The former is in a state of intense excitement; the latter evidently in a pacific frame of mind. A boy stands by with his hand upon the eat, but exhibiting no disposition to take an interest in either side of the question. If Mr. Beard can paint other animals as well as he can dogs and cats, Landscer may some day have a rival.

THE OPPOSITION .- The Executive Committee of the Opposition has determined to call a convention of "citizens opposed to the Demooratic party," to be holden at Smith & Nixon's Hall on the 29th inst., to nominate a ticket for the coming city election. The primary meetings for the election of delegates to the same, are to be holden on Monday evening, the 28th inst. The ratio of representation is as

DESERTION OF A WIPE BY HER HUBBAND-HER SUPPERINGS AND WANDERINGS .- A few weeks ago a man, whose name we suppress, arrived in the city and engaged boarding at a house near the foot of Sixth street, kept by James Dolan. He appeared to be in comfortable circumstances, and was accompanied by two child-ren, who, from their delicate faces and gentle behavior, gave evidence of a degree of innate refinement rarely met with in girls so young. He placed them in school, and seemed to devote himself to their education; but none knew whence he came, for an air of mystery enshrouded his coming, and he was over careful to allow no word to escape which would give any clue to his former life.

Night before last, a woman, with quite an intelligent face—pale, weary, shoeless and very poorly clad—called at the house and inquired for the gentleman, giving his name, and telling a story of desertion, which immediately enlisted the sympathies of the keeper of the house, who, being unable to agcommodate her, gave her a sufficient sum of money to furnish her with supper, lodging for the night and breakfast in the merning, when he requested her to call again. She said the gentleman for whom she inquired was her husband, and had left her at her residence in Evanaville, some weeks ago, almost destitute. She had determined to learn his whereabouts, and walked to Louisville, and there heard that he had left for this city. Again, with the energy and strength which only love to mortals gives, she started and walked the whole dishave already stated, on Sunday night, and by accident made her first inquiry for her husband at the house where he boarded.

Yesterday she met him, and, after a long conversation, they concluded to again make their homes each other's bosoms, and, both confessing all their faults, promised to forget the past. There was a story from the manin the shape of an excuse of neglect of the children on the part of the wife, in consequence of a fatal love for the "invisible spirit of wine," which overtopped her otherwise exquisite nature, and made her what, except for this, she never would have been-a careless mother. Contrite, she promised to reform-kissed her darling girls with joy, laid her throbbing brow upon her husband's breast, and wept large tears of penitential pleasure. The family have concluded to remain in the city, where, we sincerely hope, the woolngs of the rosy god will overcome all Bacchus' charms, and crown the balance of their lives with all his freshes

POLICE COURT .--- A number of drunks and disorderlies were disposed of yesterday morning at the Police Court, Mayor Thomas presiding A fellow named John Campbell was sentenced to the City Prison for ten days for in dulging in the elegant and refined amusement of abusing his family.

Wm. Martin was sentenced to sixty days at hard labor in the jail, upon two charges of petty larceny-he having been caught stealing molasses from Poor & Clark. Upon a third charge he plead guilty, and upon this he was sentenced for thirty, thus making his imprisnment amount in all to ninety, days.

Three young men, named respectively Chas-Feeny, James Carley and John Cory, accused of sundry thieving operations in the neighborhood of Cumminsville, were each held in $300 hail for their appearance at the Pollee Court, on the 4th inst., to answer a charge of petty larceny.

NUMBER OF ARRESTS DURING THE PAST MONTH. From the records in the office of Mayor Thomas, we learn that the number of arrests during the month of February amounted to 569; of which there were for assault and battery, 72; petty larceny, 53; grand larceny, 11; stabbing, 1; passing counterfeit coin, 8; arson, 1; burglary, 12; keeping gambling house, 2; assault with intent to kill, 6; the remainder being for drunkenness, disorderly conduct, etc. The number of lodgers accommodated at the different station houses during the month was 2,984. Since bunks have been fitted up at the Ninth-street Station-house. the number of persons who have spent the night there has been largely increased, and the benisons of the unfortunates who have occupied them, we have no doubt, rest upon the heads of the originators and prosecutors of the plan.

DINKER AT THE GALT HOUSE. - J. Dan Jones, the late Auditor, gave the clerks of his office a dinner, yesterday, at the Gait House. It was gotten up in the best style of the proprietor, Mr. William E. Marsh, and appeared to be enjoyed by the participants. Several gentlenen were toasted, and they responded happily to the compliments with which they were favored. The utmost kindness and good feeling prevailed, and the dinner ended, each one, as they parted, wishing the balance complete success in whatever position they might be

FINALE OF THE HOXTON CARE.-Yesterday morning, at the Police Court, before Mayor Thomas, the case of Joseph Huskinson, the young man who, under the alias of P. S. Johnstone, wrote to Mr. Hoxton, of Marion, for the purpose of extering money, was taken up, and resulted in sentencing Ruskinson to a fine of $100 and costs, and confinement in the dangeon for ton days.

NATIONAL THEATER-The "Gamester" was presented to a fine audience last evening. The part of Beverly is one well calculated to exhibit to advan-tage the finished elecution and fine acting of Mr. Sulivan, as was attested by the frequent plaudits and sympathetic attention of his heavers. Though his voice does not possess the volume of our most favored actors, there is a sweetness and melancholy in its subdued tones that is rarely equaled. To-night, Mr. Sullivan appears as "Hamlet," a character in which he has received the approbation of the critics in Europe and our Eastern cities.

WOOD'S THEATER—The bewildering Lurline WOOD'S THEATER—The bewildering Lurline and her attendant nymphe, last night, drew numbers within the induence of their charms. The excellent music of the "Naind Queen" is, of itself, a sufficient attraction to fill the scats of this popular place of amusement for a long time. By reference to the programme, it will be seen that, not content with offering us that which is, in limit, a feast, the management has added such inducements that a crowded house must heart this creat he case. camparatinevitably greet his eyes this evening. gave the second of their unique entertainment, to starge audience, at Smith & Nixon's Hall, last even ing. The well-carned reputation of this company for their correct rendition of every part of their choice programmes, is too well known to require indersenent at our hands. For this evening, we have for the first time a burlesque on the concerts lately given here by the "divine Piccolomiai." As much care has been devoted to make this affair complete in music, costume and acting, those of our friends who are so fortunate as to be present at its rendition, will be sure to enjoy themselves "to the top of their bent."

It will be found upon examination that the above totals do not agree by $100,000, and yet both footings are correct. These are the Auditor's figures, and we are sure that the mistake, in the addition of the resources, is his. The Auditor may be generally Weight, but we are confident in this he is wrong.

MAN SERIOUSLY HURT IN A FIGHT .- A COUple of men, named Liffey and Wirt, while engaged in chopping wood in the neighborhood of College Hill, a day or two since, quarreled, and after the passage of some blows Wirt struck Liffey several times with an ax, breaking his arm, fracturing his skull and bruising his bedy quite seriously. He was found short time afterward lying upon the ground, almost dead, but Wirt escaped, and has not since been heard of.

UNITED STATES COURT .- At the above Court the case of Latta vs. Shawk, was taken up-Taft & Perry and Lee & Fisher for plaintiffs, and Coffin & Mitchell for the defense. The forenoon was occupied by an argument in favor of the dismissal of the special pleas, which argument prevailed. In the afternoon the time was entirely taken up by explaining the cause to the jury. It will be continued during the day by the examination of witnesses.

A young man answering the description of Samuel O. Grannen, whom we noticed yesterday as having disappeared somewhat mysteriourly from his home about two years ago, we learn is now confined in the Jail at Covington for some petty misdemeaner.

Tug Board of Directors of the Sunday School Union met last night at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Union, on Fourth street, but adjourned over until next week, without doing any business.

FIRE ALARMS.—There were two alarms of fire yesterday, but in both cases the flames were extinguished without the aid of the De-

GARROTING .- A man named George Theis was knocked down, on the corner of Webster and Broadway, night before last, and robbed of about fifteen dellars.

The Cincinnati Observatory-Professor Mitchell in New York.

At the public meeting held in New York, on Friday last, on behalf of the proposed Astronomical Observatory in the Central Park of that city, the Rev. Dr. Cox paid a glowing tribute to Professor Mitchell, speaking particularly of the pleasure he received on viewing the heavenly bodies through the telescope of the Professor, at his Observatory, in Cincinnati. The Rev. Dector expressed his belief that God intended men to be astronomera, for nati. The Rev. Dector expressed his belief that God intended men to be astronomers, for the fourth day of the Creation showed this; the whole meaning of that was adjustment, for when God said, "Let it be for signs and for seasons, and for days and for years," the meaning was: "I have given you the dial of the leaves, consult the clock-work of Eternity, measure time as it passes over earth's footstool."

Professor Mitchell followed Dr. Cox: He pointed with pride to the fact that Cincinnati had not asked for a cent outside of her own State, for the building of the Cincinnati Observatory, and had ever since supported it herself. In raising that building the subscriptions were In raising that building the subscriptions were taken out in molasses, iron, shoes, groceries, ficur, etc., and after buying the instruments he began with only $25 in the treasury, and with two masons and a tender. He actually put in the sand and drew the carts himself, made a lime kiln and saw the lime made into mortar, by a natural pond which was made by rain. At length he had one hundred and fifty men at work, and paid them in due bills or land cakes. He used to begin on Monday morning without a dollar, and yet was able to pay his hands on Saturday night, and had to work six hours a day, and support his family as he best could. This he did not say for a beast, because any men could do it who would try.
